NORTHEAST UNIT MEETING

Monday, February 24, 2019

10:00 am

La Vida Llena

10501 Lagrima de Oro NE, Albuquerque

No reservations are required.

Richard A. Allen, JD, Acting Deputy General Counsel for the State Engineer's Litigation and Adjudication Program, and a Special Assistant Attorney General working in the Office of the New Mexico State Engineer, will address the February 24th NE Heights Unit presenting a discussion of water rights, water litigation cases, and challenges faced by both private and public demands on the water supply in arid NM. Mr. Allen graduated in 1977 from Austin College in Sherman, Texas, with a B.A. in philosophy, and received his J.D. from Harvard Law School in 1980. In his almost forty years as a practicing attorney he has worked for one very large firm, a number of small firms, as in-house counsel with American Standard, Inc., three years in solo practice, and has clerked with a Dallas federal district court and a Texas court of appeals. In 1995 Mr. Allen and his family moved to New Mexico, and practiced Indian law and appeared before the courts of the Navajo Nation. In 2005 Mr. Allen began work for his present employer, the Office of the New Mexico State Engineer. For almost fourteen years he worked as a staff attorney, then manager, of the Lower Rio Grande Bureau. Mr. Allen is married with two adult children and one granddaughter. His wife Jeanine is a painter, his son William is on the teaching staff of the Albuquerque Explora, and his daughter Elizabeth is finishing up her second year of a Masters in Art History at the University of Paris.

THE LEAGUE AND WATER ISSUES IN NEW MEXICO:

LWVNM has long recognized that water availability is frequently the determinant for increased industrial development essential to expanding the NM economy but NM also requires maintenance of sufficient potable water to sustain the current and future residents of NM. LWVNM has substantial Positions regarding land use, water, and responsibilities of the NM State Engineer. The League position states that land use and development must be tied to water availability. To encourage this, we believe:

- Compliance with water availability determinations by the Office of the State Engineer (OSE) under the Subdivision Act should be mandatory.
- The applicant must be required to acquire water rights before development can proceed.
- The impact of any transfer of water rights on the area of origin must be assessed.
- The permitting authority should evaluate the impact of proposed developments on "public welfare" as defined by the applicable regional water plan and be able to demonstrate that the proposed development is consistent with the plan.
- New residential and commercial developments should be water-efficient.
- Growth should not be permitted where water is not available.

FROM THE DESKS OF THE CO-PRESIDENTS....

This year the Central New Mexico League will be participating in 411. That is the software used by the National League of Women Voters to allow citizens to learn more about the candidates and issues they will be voting on. We will use this software in addition to our normal Voter Guide activities, but the availability of the software, which is leased by the LWV New Mexico board, will allow us to experiment. Mary Wilson is leading the effort, and our first test case will be over the next few weeks as we create questions for city council candidates in Rio Rancho and begin research on ballot questions. The Rio Rancho municipal election is March 3. A lot will depend on whether we have enough members volunteer to work on this. This is going to be an exciting year in politics, and we encourage you to get involved in the work of educating New Mexico voters.

Discussions during the APD Forward Coalition 1/16/20 meeting focused on the upcoming DOJ Compliance Bureau Meeting 1/21/20 (APD Forward believes Compliance Bureau message should remain consistent). Judge Browning will convene a hearing 2/11/20 during which dismissal of 25% of Court Approved Settlement Agreement (Consent Decree/CASA) measures may be reassigned to the City of Albuquerque for self-monitoring. This reassignment could impact 2/20 contract negotiations with Dr. Ginger, the Independent Monitor for the CASA. APD self-monitoring may also increase resources for uniformed officers reassignment to crime-fighting. Health Care for the Homeless (APD Steering Committee member) considers the new West Side facility as a shelter, not gateway to relief of the Homeless situation. APD Commander Middleton performed a backlog review of APD Use of Force (UOF) cases and will also be performing a self-assessment. All Level 2 and Level 3 UOF instances will now be reviewed by APD Internal Affairs – previously practices and approach differed between the 6 APD Commands.

LWVCNM will be holding a 100th Birthday Party Saturday February 15th to mark the founding of the League of Women Voters February 14, 1920. See details in this Voter.

Additional Suffrage Anniversary events included the 1/19/20 & 1/26/20 showings of the Equal Means Equal documentary featuring the continuing rocky climb toward passage of the Equal Rights amendment and coordinated locally with the National Organization of Women. Channel 13 interviewed Dr. Jeanne Logsdon, PhD and LWVCNM Suffrage Committee Chair, before the 1/19/20 event. Suffrage Anniversary Banquet planning meetings are held monthly for the 8/29/20 Gala celebrating the August 26, 1920 passage of the 19th Amendment to the US Constitution granting women the right to vote. Additional LWVCNM volunteers are needed for the Gala invitation list, Publicity, Development/Fundraising, and soliciting Silent Auction Donations.

Role of Government

State government and the legal process must work to reconcile the many claims on New Mexico water in a manner that is open and as fair as possible. Among other considerations:

- Communal as well as private interests must be respected in applying water law;
- Maintenance of in-stream flow and general ecological health must be recognized as a "beneficial use" of water.
- The Office of the State Engineer should be adequately funded to execute its functions.

In addition:

- The OSE must be given more authority to regulate domestic well permits. Improved regulation and monitoring of domestic wells and septic systems is essential to protect groundwater supplies and should be adequately funded.
- The effort to gather data must be coordinated and adequately funded by the state, which should establish consistent protocols, accounting methods, and terminology.
- The state should also help implement the regional water plans and provide coordination among planning activities at the different levels of government and across river basins.

HISTORIC MARKER.....Thanks to Eileen Van Wie of the Southern NM League of Women Voters there will be a marker placed in Pioneer Women’s Park in the five hundred block of West Las Cruces Ave., Las Cruces, NM as a part of the National Women’s Centennial History, Historical Marker Project. Laura Epelsheimer Frenger, a NM suffragist, mobilized the General Federation of Women’s Clubs around NM to support women’s voting rights at the state and federal levels. The group often met in Pioneer Women’s Park to coordinate their efforts.

Laura Epelsheimer Frenger (1873-1961) was born in St. Louis, MO, but moved with her husband George Frenger to Las Cruces where she taught music and engaged in many philanthropic activities. She is buried with her husband in Masonic Cemetery in Las Cruces.

EQUAL MEANS EQUAL.... A successful showing of the film documenting the Equal Rights Amendment

The Equal Rights Amendment (ERA) to the US Constitution was a big draw to the first LWVCNM Centennial Celebrations event in 2020. The ERA is the subject of the documentary film, "Equal Means Equal," which was shown on January 19 and 26 at the Guild Cinema in Albuquerque. The event was a fundraiser for final ratification of the ERA, which coincidentally was being debated in the Virginia state legislature in mid-January when the film was shown. Film director Kamala Lopez pulled no punches in vividly demonstrating why the ERA is needed to protect women and girls. Word of mouth after the first screening stimulated many requests for tickets to the sold-out second showing. Proceeds from $10 ticket sales and additional contributions at the door resulted in $2,456 to be donated to the final push to get the ERA into the Constitution.

The LWVCNM played a pivotal role in this co-sponsored event. Two League members, Linda McDowell and Jeanne Logsdon, were on the organizing committee, along with Sylvia Ramos (ERA Coalition) and Sandra Perea (National Organization for Women Albuquerque chapter). Indivisible Nob Hill also donated funds for showing the film. Many League volunteers pitched in, first to design the tickets and poster, then to publicize the event, and sell tickets at the office, through the website, and to their friends. Finally, we showed up to staff the event at the theater. Thanks go to Linda Adcox-Kimmel, Janet Blair, Cheryl Haaker (SP), Trish Lopez, MaryEllen Smith, Jan Strand, Andrea Targhetta, Karen Wentworth, and all the office volunteers who took phone calls and sold tickets over a 6-week period.

The other members of the organizing committee contributed as well. Sandra Perea of NOW took charge of accounting and handling ticket sales at both screenings. Sylvia Ramos of the ERA Coalition arranged for panelists to respond to questions and concerns raised by the audience. The panelists at the January 19 screening were Sylvia Fink, co-president of the American Association of University Women New Mexico, and Terrelene Massey, executive director of the Southwest Women's Law Center. At the second screening, panelists were Dr. Martha Burk, political psychologist and author of the newly published book, Your Voice, Your Vote, and Bette Fleishman, executive director of Pegasus Legal Services for Children.

The League has received many positive comments about its participation in this event to educate the community about the critical importance of the ERA. We have strengthened relationships with like-minded organizations by working together on this project. The 2020 Centennial Celebrations effort is off to a good start.

By Jeanne Logsdon

Jeanne Logsdon being interviewed by a KRQE reporter about Equal Means Equal fundraiser

Thank You, Jeanne Logsdon

At Central New Mexico we are thanking our lucky stars for Jeanne Logsdon who is chairing our 100th anniversary celebrations. She has been working tirelessly to put it all together and still found time to send information to the U.S. League about our day of action activities at the New Mexico State Legislature and the 100th birthday celebration on Feb. 15. As a result, the LWVCNM was selected to receive a $1,000 grant to aid in our work. One member can make all the difference!

THERE IS POWER IN WORKING IN COALITION....

Excerpts from LWVUS President Chris Carson’s January 7, 2020 letter to the majority and minority leaders of the Senate and House encouraging passage of S.J. Res. 6 and H.J. Res. 79, removing the ratification deadline on the ERA.....

Despite the significant legal and legislative advances that have been made in recent decades, women continue to face discrimination on the basis of sex. The symptoms of this systemic discrimination are clear in the ongoing fights against unequal pay, workplace harassment, pregnancy discrimination, domestic violence, and limited access to comprehensive healthcare. It is not enough to treat the symptoms; we must address the root cause of inequality by amending the Constitution....The U.S. Supreme Court has upheld the rights of Congress to determine whether an amendment has been ratified in a reasonable time...The Court held that an amendment should be ratified within a “reasonable” and “sufficiently contemporaneous” time frame. The court further clarified how to properly define the reasonable amount of time for a ratifying an amendment. In Coleman v. Miller the court recognized that upon ratification by three-fourths of the states, Congress has the power to consider the political, social, and economic conditions in considering whether the amendment was ratified in a reasonable amount of time, and whether the amendment is still necessary.

League Endorses Accessible Voting Act of 2020

The LWVUS endorsed the Accessible Voting Act of 2020, introduced by Senator Bob Casey (PA). This legislation will expand voter accessibility requirements to the resources voters need for information on how to register to vote, cast an absentee ballot, find transportation to the polls, and receive help if their right to vote is challenged. This bill will also increase support to the Election Assistance Commission and create grants for states that will improve accessibility for voters across the country. SB 3206.

WE PLAN.....

On January 11, 2020, members met to discuss Program Planning for LWVCNM. Both local and national programs were discussed. After Mary Wilson led the discussion on National program planning as presented in the January Voter, Trish Lopez led the discussion of local positions.

Our ongoing committees are for Celebrating 100 Years, the Voter Guide, Public Transportation, and Know Your Local Government.

Know Your Local Government is a committee Karen Wentworth is spearheading to review the local government departments, what they do, and how they work together. The end result is to be a booklet on this topic that can be shared with the community and through the website. She needs a committee of 5–6 people to look at and talk to people in various departments on what's working and also issues of access. The time commitment would be one meeting every other week for 4–6 months. There is an older publication (last printed in 1992) that could be a starting point, and the project would initially focus on Bernalillo County. It was suggested that another initial information-gathering method would be to send a questionnaire to local entities to get them to do some of the work collecting the text. It was noted that people call the office who don't know how to get things done at the local government level. Contact Karen at kwentworth17@comcast.net to volunteer. Judy also mentioned that when she talks to people moving in they are confused. She has agreed to be the first volunteer for this group.

Public Transportation was a committee set up at last year's Program Planning with Sharon Moynahan as the chair. There were five volunteers to start, but Judy Binder was the only one who kept up all year. There was a general discussion of public transit, noting that Denver has grown its public transit well. Mary asked if the committee could do an article for the Voter on how to drive down Central now that the ART buses are running.

On other local League positions the group talked about rank-choice voting and how an advocacy chair would be able to widen our impact on local issues. Mary noted that at the local level we've never studied instant runoffs/rank-choice voting. Perhaps we should work on a concurrence by getting the Santa Fe and Las Cruces study material to review and use as a basis for educating our group on the topic. We all agreed that we do not feel confident in explaining the terms. It was suggested that we invite Maria Perez with Fair Vote New Mexico to speak to us. She heard her talk on this issue with the Los Alamos League and it helped her understand the process much better. The Albuquerque City Council will be looking at rank-choice voting again in the spring.

This discussion led into the topic of the local League taking more public stances on issues affecting our area. Some of the group were sorry LWVCNM hadn't taken a position on Democracy Dollars in the last election, for instance. The board is currently limited because there is no advocacy chair to ferret out issues that align with our own League positions to bring to the board and to speak about to the greater community. There are many things we could weigh in on, but it needs attention and research to understand the issues and how they fit with our mission and positions. It was noted that this doesn't have to be a seat listed in the bylaws; it could be appointed. It was also mentioned that the new Observer Corp that is being put together would feed into advocacy because they would hear things out in the community.

Trish concluded the meeting by pointing out that anything each of us can do is better than nothing. Even one hour a month is something we can work with to keep moving forward.

SPOTLIGHT ON KAREN WENTWORTH.....

This month we start a new series of articles called "Spotlight" which will feature interviews of current Board Members by Trish Lopez. The first article features Co-President Karen Wentworth, formerly known in her broadcast career as Karen McDaniel. Just for fun, Trish has included some pictures here of Karen Wentworth in the early years of her career.

Name: Karen Wentworth

Position: Co-President, LWVCNM

Where are you from?

I was born and grew up in Clovis, New Mexico. I came to ABQ to work as a journalist after I graduated from Eastern New Mexico University.

Did you go to college? If so, major:

Yes, Eastern New Mexico University, where I majored in radio/television and journalism for a B.S. degree, then a Master's in Mass Communication. Like most students, I worked my way through college: in my case, as a DJ at a rock & roll radio station.

How long have you lived in ABQ?

After graduation, I came to Albuquerque and worked, first in radio then at KOAT for 20 years as a producer and reporter. I married Steve Wentworth, who I met at ENMU. He is a member of the league, and moderates candidate forums for the league, and serves on city and county boards, a big change from his career as a general contractor building custom homes and commercial buildings. As a reporter, I specialized in covering state government and the legislature, the environment and the National Laboratories. That gave me an amazing view of the problems in New Mexico and the various attempts to solve them.

Karen at work at KNEW

What inspired you to get involved in politics and voter rights?

I've always been interested in politics because of my parents, who were teachers in the Clovis School System, were active in the National Education Association. At ENMU I did my master's degree on the passage of the Equal Rights Amendment in New Mexico.

Why are you a member of LWV? What led you to where you are today?

One of the biggest problems in NM has always been the lack of awareness on the part of government officials and citizens about problems that shape their lives. For example, Rio Rancho and housing developments on the west side of the city began growing in the 1970's, but Mayors and City Councilors in Albuquerque felt no urgency about building river crossings until the problem became almost too big to handle. It is a huge problem for the city which is only slowly being improved. When I left journalism, I went to work for the NM Economic Development Department for a close-up look at how things could go wrong, then moved to the Marketing and Communications Department of the University of New Mexico where I wrote about research and the efforts of the university to build an effective startup economy. I've been a neighborhood activist for decades in the Alameda North Valley Association and still work on problems that affect my north valley neighborhood. Steve is president of the association and frequently mentors neighborhood groups trying to solve a local problem in the community. He has served as a Bernalillo County Planning Commissioner. I've served as a member of the Albuquerque/Bernalillo County Air Quality Control Board. This year the individual legislators in ABQ will be given millions of dollars to dole out to small projects in insufficient amounts. They will spend a few hundred thousand here or there to make constituents happy instead of working together to solve big problems. For example, the Balloon Fiesta event has grown too large for its venue.

Instead of a creative solution like an additional launch area, city officials in Albuquerque will ask for eight to eleven million dollars to build a Railrunner spur to try to cram more people into the current park in a short amount of time. My neighbors on North Edith are facing the prospect of a train looming 20 or 30 feet above their backyard fences, devastating their quality of life in homes some have owned for generations. It is fascination with problems like this that keep me interested in pushing for good government and public officials that can see beyond the end of their noses. Interested, involved voters are the only thing that will make our democracy work.

Karen at KENW

What is the most rewarding part of serving on the LWVCNM Board?

The most rewarding part of serving on the League of Women Voters Board is the chance to try to make a difference.

What is your favorite law that has been passed in NM in your time living here?

The best law I've ever seen passed in NM was the one that created a school funding formula in the early 1970s. Prior to the law, school districts relied only on property taxes to fund schools. Richer communities had better schools. Poorer communities barely had money for buildings or books. Under the school funding formula the state took responsibility for public education and every district received approximately equal amounts of money for every student. It was and continues to be an extraordinary effort to give every kid a better education in New Mexico.

Please share one quote or life lesson that you try to live by:

One of my favorite quotes is one by Thomas Jefferson that we use often in the league. "Democracy is not a spectator sport."
